

FLORIDA INSPECTORS GENERAL

Enhancing Public Trust

Candie Fuller

Candie Fuller is currently the Inspector General of the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP), where she leads a staff of auditors, investigators and administrative staff. She joined DEP in August 2011 after serving as the Inspector General for the Department of Community Affairs for three years. Candie has been employed with the State of Florida for 17 ½ years where she has gained experience in contract management, financial management, single audit compliance, auditing, and investigations. Prior to her employment with the State, she worked in the banking industry. She is a graduate of Auburn University where she earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting. Her work in corporate and governmental settings reflect a broad base of knowledge that crosses disciplines and the proven skill to identify needs, formulate solutions, and devise cost effective plans that attain organizational goals.

Candie is a member of the Florida Chapter of the Association of Inspectors General, the Tallahassee Chapter of the Institute of Internal Auditors, and the Association of Government Accountants.

An important aspect of her life is her family; husband (Shane) and two children (Lindsey, 14 and Austin, 9). Outside of professional interest, she enjoys boating with her family and watching her children play softball and baseball.
