

FLORIDA INSPECTORS GENERAL

Enhancing Public Trust

Greg White

Greg joined the Auditor General's office, Performance Division, in 1984. Two and a half years later Greg went to the OIG at the Department of Natural Resources which later became the Department of Environmental Protection. In 2008 Greg became Audit Director for the Department of Education and as of July 2, 2012 Greg became the Inspector General for the Judicial Branch (State Court System). Prior to state service, Greg was a U.S. Navy officer from 1976-1980 and he worked at a metal foundry as finance director in the early 1980s. Greg has a BA from the University of Florida and an MBA from FSU. He is a CIA and CGAP.