

FLORIDA INSPECTORS GENERAL

Enhancing Public Trust

Francis Marvin Doyal

Marvin Doyal, CPA/CFF, CFE, CIG, CICA, began working as an auditor and investigator in August 1964 and has continued in that profession since that date. During that period, he has worked for a federal agency, several state agencies, a city and as a consultant to several law firms. All of the positions that he has held dealt with providing clients advice and services -- primarily forensic accounting services, management consulting, auditing, investigating, -- including advice concerning complying with law and regulation, establishing effective internal controls, recovering losses and implementing organizational change. Marvin is currently the Inspector General at the Agency for Persons with Disabilities.
